James Marlow, AP Columnist, Dies at 64

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — James Marlow, who for 25 years wrote the award-winning column "The World Today" for The Associated Press, died Thursday. He was 64 and had been in poor health for some time.

Marlow, a newspaperman for 41 years, wrote his column from Washington. It was an unusual one.

The column did not predict. It did not pretend to pass on "inside" information. It was neither pretentious nor pontifical.

Instead, the writer tried to explain events, to put them in context in an interesting and factual way. This required exhaustive research. Marlow read more than 45 books for a series analyzing Winston Churchill's impact on history.

He pioneered in interpretive writing.

Marlow was born in the Hell's Kitchen section of New York on Aug. 2, 1903, of Irish working-class parents. He had barely a brush with college, attending Fordham in the Bronx for less than a year. He was a relentless reader, beginning as a boy when tuberculosis kept him out of school two years.

He went to work for the AP in New Orleans in 1937 after 10 years on newspapers there. He began his career as a police reporter and his favorite stories were always of those days.

Marlow's Washington column ran five days a week, a pace few columnists attempt. Because he tried to be current he wrote at the last moment, but invariably he kept his deadline.

This was late at night. He claimed the pressure did not bother him. "You get used to it," he said.

Earlier in the day, Marlow paced the floor of the AP office, tested his ideas on editors and copy boys, read, researched and paced some more. He was an easy conversational mark for anyone, especially the young.

Lunch was always chopped beefsteak, apple pie and coffee and always in the same cafeteria. It is not the kind of place that attracts politicians, lobbyists, public relations men or executives.

He read and fished for relaxation. He worked hard for the American Newspaper Guild, was a leader in the successful drive to unionize AP editorial employees in the late 1940s.

Marlow's highly stylized writing emphasized an eye-catching opening paragraph. When India invaded tiny Portuguese Goa in 1961 Marlow began his column this way:

India's Prime Minister Nehru, who made himself the world's No. 1 holler-when-thou-moralizer and man of peace, can no longer act as the conscience of mankind.

Marlow worked for the editor-

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP) — Two witnesses said Thursday they refused to accept inducements offered them by former newspaperman Gene Wirges, Jerry Bennett, a Morrilton barber, and Grover Toney, a Negro of Union Chapel (Conway County), were the witnesses for Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins.

Hawkins has been charged in a taxpayers suit with misusing county bond money and has been asked to make an accounting for the years 1963 through 1966.

Bennett testified in March that he had received a bond refund of $200 from Hawkins in 1965. He said Thursday Wirges approached him in downtown Morrilton last month.

"He told me that if I would get upon the stand and say I didn't get my money back, that he would get me a lot of business and some money," Bennett said. "I told him I was not interested in that sort of thing and turned around and left him."

Toney testified that Wirges came to his home the month after he was arrested during an Alcoholic Beverage Control Board raid at Union Chapel. He and another man were charged with possessing whisky for resale without a license.

Toney said Wirges said: "Grover, I see where the ABC man raided you. I can help you out if you'll help me."

Toney said Wirges told him that if he would testify that he did not get a $145 bond refund in 1965, he would get "Mr. (Gov. Winthrop) Rockefeller's JP to try me and have it thrown out and also give me $100."

"I told him, 'No,'" Toney said, "because he (the sheriff) did refund the money."

Wirges denied the allegations by Bennett and Toney.

"I knew Jerry Bennett by sight," he said, "To my knowledge I have never spoken to him. I wouldn't know Grover Toney if he walked in this office this morning."

"This is one more chapter of what has been going on for the past years," Wirges said.

Former Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon and former Asst. Atty. Gen. Jack Lessberry of Little Rock, Hawkins' attorneys, have said throughout the trial that Rockefeller and the Republican party financed the suit.

Wirges is not among the plaintiffs but the suit is based upon material he gathered during an investigation.

Lessberry noted earlier Thursday that Hawkins' Republican opponent this year is John F. Thompson, Thompson, a former Morrilton utility manager, testified in March that he had drawn $150 a week while working for one of the plaintiffs' lawyers.

Hawkins' lawyers said last March that agents of Rockefeller had offered to have the suit dropped if the sheriff would "go fishing" on election day and let the governor carry Conway County in the 1966 general election.

Testimony on these allegations and the testimony of Bennett and Toney was heard in closed chambers by Circuit Judge Bobby Steel of Nashville.

John Barnard of Russellville, an accountant employed by Hawkins, testified earlier Thursday that the sheriff had been improperly charged by the plaintiffs with funds he did not receive.

Steel is expected to hand down his decision some time this month.

President Johnson said of the death:

"Mrs. Johnson and I were saddened to learn of the tragic death of James Marlow. He was a friend of more than 30 years. He earned my respect and that of his profession as a good, honest reporter. Journalism has lost a man who distinguished his profession. We will all miss him."

Wes Gallagher, AP general manager, said:

"The loss of Jim Marlow is a severe one, not only to The Associated Press, but to the profession of journalism as a whole. He was a superb craftsman with one of the most difficult jobs in Washington journalism, which he performed as no one else could."

Marlow is survived by his widow, the former Hannah Hartling; a daughter, Mrs. William Cherwek; and a grandson, Dean Cherwek, 5. Cremation and private services are planned.

Red Wall Is Cracked After Two Long Years

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS
Associated Press Writer
A SHAU VALLEY, Vietnam (AP) — "The fire was coming up so heavy it sounded like a steady roar. It was a solid red wall beside me."

Capt. Denny Miner of Harrisburg, Pa., tensed as he recalled that initial assault April 19 into this long, green valley near the Laotian border. Miner, a helicopter pilot in the 1st Air Cavalry Division, was in the first wave that entered the Communist stronghold.

American troops had not entered the valley in force for two years, North Vietnamese troops, using Russian-made antiaircraft weapons, were in bunkers and ready.

Pilots here said 10 choppers were destroyed the first day by the enemy gunners and another 13 were hit so badly they just managed to limp back to base.

"That first day was hell," Miner said. "The fire was coming up so heavy it sounded like another engine running alongside. You know, usually the upcoming rounds make a crackling sound, you can hear, but this was a steady roar. I looked out the side window and it was a solid red wall beside me. All those tracers."

Miner, red-eyed from lack of sleep, paused. "We were so lucky. We didn't take a single hit."

Many of his friends were not so lucky. Machine gun fire from the North Vietnamese in bunkers blasted the tail of a ship directly in front of Miner. He had to swerve sharply to miss the rotor blade that spun by him.

Skytroopers, as the 1st Cavalrymen call themselves, found light ground resistance once they got in position.

But the helicopter took a severe beating. Miner said it was the biggest loss of choppers in one day he could recall.

By the second day however, the antiaircraft fire had fallen off sharply as wave after wave of Navy, Air Force and Marine jets pounded the positions and were followed by B52 bombers at night. With the exception of a couple of pockets, the A Shau Valley belonged to the 1st Cavalry after four days.

Transplant Is Past First Critical Stage

By WILLIAM C. HARRISON
AP Science Writer
STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A healthy heart replacing a badly diseased one has carried Joseph Rizzor beyond a critical period and into his first postoperative day.

"The first 10½ hours are critical," said doctors at Stanford University Medical Center when they completed a 4½-hour transplant operation at noon Thursday. Rizzor, 40, received the heart of a 43-year-old man.

Dr. Norman E. Shumway, 44, who headed the transplant team, said the condition of the storky Salinas, Calif., carpenter was fair. Because of a lung condition, the patient was receiving artificial respiration to help him breathe, Shumway said.

The donor, whose family asked anonymity, died of brain damage doctors described as irreversible.

Rizzor, eighth patient in medical history to undergo a human heart transplant, entered the hospital in March after suffering a serious heart condition for seven years.

He wanted the surgery. "I wish that were me," Rizzor had said when he heard about the world's first heart transplant, which was done at Cape Town, South Africa, last Dec. 3.

Rizzor was quoted by his wife, Elleen.

"At first I was shocked by the idea but time and the knowledge of how desperately my husband wanted to undergo the operation have made me realize that this may be his only chance to live," Mrs. Rizzor said before the operation began at 7:30 a.m.

She said her husband "could make anything" but had been bedridden and unable to work for the past two years.

There are four children, Mark, 15, Michelle, 13, Jody, 7, and Christopher, 3. The couple was married almost 20 years ago and moved to Salinas eight years ago.

Both the stork and the obstetrician have large bills.

Honor Students

JOHNNY SMITH McJUNKINS

CAROL McJUNKINS

Johnny Smith McJunkins was valedictorian of his eighth grade class, and now has that honor from the Saratoga High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McJunkins, Jr. of Saratoga, and grandson of Mrs. Kate McJunkins of Saratoga and Mrs. Della White of Nashville.

Carol McJunkins followed her honor as grade school salutatorian with the same honor from Saratoga High School. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McJunkins, Jr. of Saratoga, and granddaughter of Mrs. Vera McJunkins of McNab.

Both have been active in all extra-curricular activities in school, have done work available during summers, and taken active part in church and community work. Johnny has never failed to be listed on the high school honor roll, and Carol has been most of the time. Johnny's rank on national testing results are high; Carol too has nice scores, and has the determination to finish the tasks necessary.

Both are making plans at present for college enrollment this fall. Johnny is planning to enter into the field of mathematics, probably engineering or business management, and Carol to work for a 4-year degree in the field of nursing.

Rita Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Caldwell of Columbus was a very close contestant, and she too has had several scholarship offers as a result of her high scores on national tests where she was in the upper 10 per cent. Rita plans to enter Southern State College in the fall.

Graduation is Friday evening, May 17 at the Saratoga gymnasium with a former graduate, Bobby Webb as speaker.

Third Heart Transplant at Houston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The world's third human heart transplant within a week—and the ninth in all—was performed today at Houston, Tex.

Two of the recipients, both Americans, were still alive. The third, a Frenchman, died Tuesday.

Principal in the latest operation, at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston, was Everett Clair Thomas, 47, a Phoenix, Ariz., accountant. His heart was replaced by that of a 23-year-old woman who shot herself.

In Stanford, Calif., Joseph Rizzor, 40, was in fair condition after the heart of an unidentified spending restrictions in the Senate-passed increase "would really bring chaos to the government." His administration could not live with them, he said.

Noting the vote this week in the House Appropriations Committee to cut spending next year $4 billion and trim appropriations $18 billion, he said, "We do not agree with that viewpoint, we do not think it is the wisest course for this government," he said, adding that he is willing to accept it if it is the only way to get action from the House Ways and Means Committee on the tax increase.

He said he was informed by the House Appropriations Committee that it is not likely to cut the budget by more than $1.5 billion.

Johnson said it is easy to demand figures that cannot be reached and to use this as an excuse to resist a tax increase.

He said, "I think we are courting danger by this continued procrastination, this continued delay" in action on his requested surtax.

The President said if Congress doesn't like the budget, members should stand up like men and vote to cut it where they felt it could be done.

Johnson said, "I think the time has come for all the members of Congress to be responsible," to stand up for their country and pass a tax bill—the thing he said needs to be done more than anything else.

"Don't hold up a tax bill until you can blackmail someone," Johnson said at the end of his discussion of taxes.

43-year-old man replaced his own in an operation Thursday. Clovis Roblain, 66-year-old retired French truck driver and Europe's first heart transplant patient, died Tuesday in Paris. He had never regained consciousness after receiving on Saturday the heart of a man of 23 who had been fatally injured in an auto accident.

In symbolism, the color green denotes faith, gladness, immortality.

Rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included .02 of an inch at Harrison.

John W. Odell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Odell of Hope, has been promoted to manager of the J. A. West Department Store in Harrison.

He started with the company in October 1963 in the local store, and has worked in Magnolia and El Dorado as assistant manager and for the past year as assistant manager in Malvern.

He moved to Harrison with his wife and son this week.

Active Cool Front Is Edging in

An active cool front edging toward Arkansas began triggering showers and thundershowers in the state this morning.

Showers and scattered thundershowers were forecast to develop in western Arkansas this afternoon, spreading eastward across the state tonight and Saturday morning.

The showers will spoil the near perfect weather the state has been enjoying, but most of the shower activity should end in the state by Saturday afternoon.

High temperatures Thursday ranged from 76 at Walnut Ridge to 90 at Calico Rock. Overnight lows ranged from 65 at Texarkana to 53 at Calico Rock and Gilbert.

Rainfall reported for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included .02 of an inch at Harrison.

Rehearing in Water Dist. Case Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court was asked Thursday to reconsider its decision to allow the Southwest Arkansas Water District to cross their land with a canal.

Eugene B. Hale Jr. of Little Rock, attorney for a group of property owners, filed the request.

Hale said previously that the water district built the canal simply to furnish water to a private firm. The water district said the canal was built for "public use."

The court had ruled that if the canal ever ceased to be used for the public benefit, it should be returned to the original property owners.

Hale asked the court to put down the circumstances that would cause the land to be returned.

Bank Cards Distributed to 5,000

More than 5000 Southwest Arkansans will receive BankAmericards beginning May 3, 1968, according to the First National Bank.

The initial issue of credit cards will mark the beginning here of what is called the most widespread credit-and-convenience card service ever to be made available in the area.

"We look on this as the beginning of a new era in Hope," said Charles Sharpe, Jr., who heads the bank's BankAmericard Department here. "Before long, it will be possible to buy just about anything with your BankAmericard, without the risk of carrying large amounts of cash or the inconvenience of writing numerous checks."

The first cards, he said, will go to a selected list of residents with good established credit ratings. They may use their BankAmericard, he said, as a daily convenience which will enable them to pay for all their purchases with a single check each month, or as a credit tool which will permit them to pay for purchases over a long period of time.

"Credit cards are coming of age," Mr. Sharpe said. "While many of the older national cards still confine themselves largely to travel and entertainment needs, and are available only to the highest income families, BankAmericard is leading the way toward a time when many of us will be using credit cards for most of our purchases. Cash and checks will become less and less important to our daily spending habits."

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help US! this newspaper. TO TELL THE TRUTH—WHILE SLEEPING?

Dear Helen: When a person talks in his sleep, does he tell the truth? A man I know has a wife who asks him a lot of questions just before he wakes up, gets him really talking, and then clobbers him because he's "dreaming of someone else." It's got so bad he says he's going to sleep elsewhere, to keep from getting punch-drunk. He accuses her of putting ideas into his subconscious mind, and she accuses him of everything else in the book. Who's right?—SUSPICIOUS

Dear Sus: The "suspicious" wife is wrong! She should stay out of dreams that don't concern her—and the more fuss she makes, the more they WON'T concern her!—H

Dear Helen: My husband goes out every night and drinks, among other things. When he gets home around 4:00 a.m. he expects me to wake up and fix supper. If I don't, he starts throwing furniture and tearing the house apart.

Will he eventually grow up?—WORRIED

Dear Worried: Not unless you crack down!

Tie a peanut butter sandwich to the doorknob, and don't answer his ring.—H

Dear Helen: Who do you contact to have your baby adopted? My husband and I live in the same house, but not in the same bed. We have three children, one seriously brain-damaged, and I must spend most of my time with him.

Now I am expecting, and I just can't face any more work or expense. We're trying to save for a divorce, but have too many bills.

Could I enter the hospital without having my name printed in the paper, and just sign adoption papers without anyone knowing papers without anyone knowing?

Would it be too red-tapish to attempt, even if I know it's right for the baby—B.A.

Dear B: You couldn't expect to keep this sort of adoption secret in your small town. However, if you're truly convinced this is right for the baby, you should be prepared to face gossip. Consult your doctor first, then take your problem to the adoption division of the County Welfare Agency. I hope this organization can find a better solution for your family troubles.—H

Dear Helen: I know there'll be plenty of protests against this letter, but I hope a few will agree, too.

Why must so many wives be so possessive about their husband's sex drive? Time and again I read about wives distressed over a sexy neighbor or flirty secretary, a husband's bug-eyes at a good figure, or dirty pictures hidden away. Don't they know the best way to lose a man is to hang on too tight? I'm a wife and mother with an average figure and face. My husband didn't marry me for my looks but for my character.

I am able to understand that most men do not inhibit their natural desires. However, God bless 'em, most confine their actual relations to their wives, especially if the gals aren't suspicious or complaining, but instead—LOVING AND UNDERSTANDING

"The increased costs the settlements impose will inevitably have some effect on the rates our customers pay for services," Gilmer said.

Athletic War Going to Senate

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate seems in for a long run in its efforts to end the track war between the Amateur Athletic Union and the nation's colleges.

Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, said Thursday he's ready to introduce a bill next week to write into law the proposed peace pact turned down by the colleges last month.

But Magnuson, who threatened quick action a month ago, indicated Congress may go slow now that the colleges have promised a truce in the feud over track control until after the Olympic Games in October.

"As long as that stays for a while, we can probably take a little more time in looking at legislation," Magnuson said.

The Commerce Committee met for 90 minutes in discussing possible congressional intervention to settle the feud and heard testimony from labor mediator Theodore Kheel, head of a Senate-created sports arbitration board.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association and its prole, the U.S. Track and Field Federation, rejected the board's recommendations in early April after 2½ years of compromise talks.

Kheel told newsmen after the closed committee session that he felt the colleges had a moral obligation, and perhaps even a legal obligation, to accept the board's findings.

Kheel's compromise would have left the AAU with the bulk of control over amateur track meets. The NCAA could continue to supervise campus meets, but the USTFF would have been required to meet AAU standards.

The USTFF, has charged, the AAU is trying to create a monopoly in track competition. It is pressing for a Justice Department antitrust investigation.

Many Long for the Good Old Days

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Mauch and Gil Hodges long for the good old days when the spitball was an illegal, unsanitary, but generally accepted maneuver that was cheerfully overlooked by everyone concerned.

No more.

Mauch, manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, learned that the hard way Thursday night during a 3-0 loss to Hodges' New York Mets.

It was the bottom of the seventh inning and John Boozar was coming on to relieve Phillies' starter Woody Fryman. Boozar went to the mound for his eight warmup pitches, toed the rubber, bent and wiped his hand across it. Then he spit on his hand. Trouble.

"Ball one," shouted plate umpire Ed Vargo.

Mauch raced out and argued. "How can he be charged with a ball on a warmup pitch?" he asked. "He went to his mouth inside the 18 foot circle of the mound," answered Vargo, "and that's a ball—anytime."

"But the game's eight pitches away from being in progress," said Mauch. "It doesn't matter," answered Vargo.

"What if he does it again?" continued Mauch. "I'll call ball two," said Vargo.

"Do it," ordered Mauch. Boozar complied. "Ball two," shouted Vargo.

"What if he does it again?" repeated Mauch. "I'll call ball three and throw him out," replied Vargo.

You know what Mauch did. Now with Boozar out, Dick Hall relieved. "And what," asked Mauch politely, "if Hall does it?"

"I'll forfeit the game to the Mets," answered Vargo.

Mauch wasn't prepared to go quite that far. So Bud Harrelson, leadoff batter for the Mets, became the first man in baseball history to draw three balls in the on-deck circle.

Mauch, who was ejected along with Boozar, called the spitball rule weak-kneed and wishy washy. "Punish the people who cheat," he said. "We all know who they are."

Nicklaus May Win His First Meet

By PAUL RECER
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Golfer Jack Nicklaus, without a tournament victory for the year and far down the list in official money winnings, said he came to the Houston Champions International ready to win. After the first round Thursday, nobody stepped up to argue the point.

He fired a six-under-par 65 in the first round of the $100,000 Champions tournament to grab the lead by one stroke.

Nicklaus toured the 7,166-yard champions golf club course with six birdies and no miscues.

"These must be my kind of greens," the 28-year-old Columbus, Ohio pro said. "The ball rolled good. I drove the ball well and, of course, I putted well, too."

Nicklaus edged Dan Sikes who had a 68.

Roberto De Vincenzo, who lost the Masters title this year through a bookkeeping error, moved to within a stroke of the Nicklaus pace before fading.

De Vincenzo posted a card that included two eagles and three birdies. One eagle came on what the Argentine called "a short putt of 100 feet." The other was on a 35-footer. On the back nine he got two bogeys and fell to a tie for third with George Archer, Tom Weiskopf and Miller Barber at 67.

Recalling the Masters incident, De Vincenzo cracked to newsmen, "I check my score card very good today."

Al Geiberger and Bob Murphy set course records with front nine scores of 31, five under par. Geiberger finished with a 68, tied with Fred Marti and Hugh Royer.

Murphy bogeyed 11, 17 and 18 to drop into a crowd of golfers knotted at 69. Among those tied at 69 was Gary Player, the South African who was considered a mild favorite to win here.

Graebner Is Marked Man in Cup Play

By ED YOUNG
Associated Press Sports Writer
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Clark Graebner was the first Yank on the firing line today as the United States marched into the 1968 Davis Cup tennis wars, but he shouldered the psychological burden lightly.

"They tell me I'm the man on the spot," said the tall, bespectacled Graebner, at 24 the nation's fourth-ranked amateur. "But nobody had to tell me. I knew it already."

"I still say if we all don't win, there can be no possible excuses."

Graebner's foe in the first singles match of the U.S. team's opening round American zone skirmish here with the British Caribbean team was the best player the visitors possess—Richard Russell, 21.

The second singles on the afternoon program sent the top man on the U.S. team, Arthur Ashe, against Lance Lumsden. Almost everyone, including the third—and odd man out—on the British Caribbean team, David Tate, figured it would take no less than a 14-carat miracle to bring the visitors victory in the three-day series of four singles and one doubles match on Byrd Park's hard courts.

Tate, 21-year-old University of Miami, Fla., student who won't play at all in the American zone opener, said Russell "is capable of beating Graebner, but only on an extraordinary day—and he has a decided edge over Lumsden."

Saturday's doubles match sends the young and eye-catching U.S. duo of Stan Smith, 21, and Bob Lutz, 20, against Russell and the 27-year-old Lumsden.

Phoebus in Six Hitter, Yanks Lose

By HERSCHEL NENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
No-hit Tom Phoebus said he didn't have very much Thursday night but the surging Baltimore Orioles have plenty to show for it today.

In his first start since his no-hitter last Saturday, the stocky right-hander yielded six hits and whipped the New York Yankees 7-3, becoming the first American League pitcher to win four games.

In the only other contests, Minnesota edged Detroit 3-2 on Tony Oliva's 10th-inning single and Boston trimmed California 4-1. Detroit's league lead shrank to a half-game over Baltimore and one game over Minnesota.

In the National League, Houston blanked St. Louis 4-0. Cincinnati whipped San Francisco 6-2 in 11 innings. Chicago nipped Pittsburgh 1-0. New York defeated Philadelphia 3-0 and Los Angeles outlasted Atlanta 2-1 in 17 innings.

Phoebus allowed his first hit with one out in the third inning—a run-scoring single by Horace Clarke. He also served up a two-run homer to Andy Kosco in the eighth.

But he struck out 11 batters, whiffing Mickey Mantle four times, as the Orioles swept their three-game series from the Yankees and won their fourth straight game.

"I felt a little pressure at the start," Phoebus said. "I wasn't relaxed. I wasn't as sharp as the last time."

Andy Etchebarren, Paul Blair and Mark Belanger paced the Baltimore attack with three hits apiece. Etchebarren had a homer and Blair knocked in three runs.

Minnesota, which had its game won until Detroit's Jim Northrup homered with one out in the ninth, almost blew it again in the 10th. Reliever Al Worthington loaded the bases with one out but struck out Bill Freehan and Dick Tracewski.

Rod Carew doubled off Tiger reliever Dennis Ribant with two out in the top of the 10th and scored the winning run on Oliva's single. Carew also started a two-run rally in the fourth.

Boston's Jose Santiago allowed only three hits and fanned nine in recording his 11th straight regular season victory since mid-1967.

Ken Harrelson supported him with a single, double, homer and two runs batted in. The triumph ended a four-game losing streak for the defending champion Red Sox.

Johnson in Praise of Offensive

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mervin Johnson, assistant football coach at the University of Arkansas, complimented the first offensive unit Thursday following a one-hour offensive practice.

He said the unit, quarterbacked by John Eichler of Stuttgart, "looked pretty good."

Johnson said Thursday's workout was similar to Wednesday's practice. He said the offense touched on some of the things that had not been gotten to earlier in spring practice.

WATHEN KNEBELKAMP, president and chief executive officer of the Ozarks at Age 44, died Thursday in a Fort Smith hospital.

Smith, who came to Ozarks after coaching at Fayetteville High School, had been ill for about three weeks. Smith, a 1957 graduate of Arkansas Tech, is survived by his wife and two children.

Ozarks Coach Succumbs at Age 44

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Willard Jackson Smith, 44, basketball coach at the College of the Ozarks for the past two years, died Thursday in a Fort Smith hospital.

Smith, who came to Ozarks after coaching at Fayetteville High School, had been ill for about three weeks. Smith, a 1957 graduate of Arkansas Tech, is survived by his wife and two children.

Houston Blanks the Cardinals

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Nolan Ryan has some advice for John Boozar. Pickle brine. It keeps you out of spitball trouble with the umpires.

The Great Spitball Controversy erupted again Thursday night in the midst of the New York Mets' 3-0 victory over Philadelphia.

Phillies' reliever John Boozar was beginning his warmups in the seventh inning and was amazed to hear umpire Ed Vargo yell, "ball one."

"How can he be charged with a ball on a warmup pitch?" screamed Manager Gene Mauch. "He went to his mouth inside the 18-foot circle of the mound," said Vargo, "and that's a ball anytime."

A discussion ensued, with Mauch ordering Boozar to spit on his hand twice more and Vargo calling balls two and three and ejecting the by-now bewildered pitcher.

Mauch inquired what would happen if Dick Hall, who replaced Boozar, should commit the same offense.

"I'll forfeit the game to the Mets," said Vargo, ending the discussion. So by the time Bud Harrelson of the Mets finally got up, the count was 3-0.

Ryan, the winning pitcher who allowed just three hits in the seven innings he pitched, said he stays out of trouble because of the pickle brine prescribed by trainer Gus Mauch to treat blisters on his pitching hand.

"I don't like pickles," said Ryan, who was lifted after throwing 136 pitches and striking out 10. "But the brine is doing the job. I keep dipping my finger in a jar of the stuff."

"Only trouble is I don't like the smell. It bothers me, especially when I bring my hand to my mouth. Outside the 18-foot circle, of course."

In other National League games Thursday, Los Angeles outlasted Atlanta 2-1 in 17 innings. Houston blanked St. Louis 4-0. Chicago shut out Pittsburgh 1-0 and Cincinnati downed San Francisco 6-2 in 11 innings.

In the American League, Boston beat California 4-1. Baltimore took New York 7-3 and Minnesota edged Detroit 3-2.

Bob Bailey drove in two runs with singles 11 innings apart as the Dodgers won the longest game they have played since moving to Los Angeles 10 years ago.

ago. The Braves tied the game in the ninth on Felix Millan's run-scoring infield single.

Denny Lemaster threw a three-hitter at the league-leading Cardinals and the Astros broke Nelson Briles' consecutive victory string of 13. He had won four this season and nine at the end of the 1967 campaign. Briles singled in the sixth for the first St. Louis hit.

Joe Niekro scattered six hits and Ernie Banks homered for the only run of the game off Jim Bunning in the Cubs' victory. The victory ended a three-game Pirate winning streak and a three-game Chicago losing string.

Johnny Bench came up with a bases-loaded single with two out in the 11th to break open the Cincinnati-San Francisco game and before the inning was over the Reds had scored twice more. Willie McCovey and Jim Hart each hit his fifth homer for the Giants.

Travelers Hand Loss to San Antonio

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers jumped off to a three-run lead and defeated San Antonio 6-2 Thursday for their eighth victory in the last 11 games.

The victory pushed the Travs past the .500 mark for the first time this season.

Arkansas got off to a 2-0 lead in the second inning on a double by Billy Murphy, and a single by Len Boyer. Boyer later scored on a ground-out.

The Travs scored a run in the fourth without a hit and Leron Lee homered for another run in the fifth. Arkansas scored its last two runs in the seventh on a single by Boyer, a walk, a sacrifice and Boots Day's single.

Clayton Kirby picked up this third straight victory but had to have help in the last 2-2-3 innings.

TOM PHOEBUS (left) of the Baltimore Orioles and Phil Ortega of the Washington Senators, two of baseball's brightest young pitchers, show their form in American League competition. Phoebus recently pitched a no-hitter against Boston and Ortega hurled a two-hitter against Cleveland.

Today's hand, an old favorite of bridge writers, looks run-of-the-mill and would be in rubber bridge. But when Helen White played it in the 1935 National Women's Pair tourney, she made an important overtrick at her five club contract.

That overtrick would only be 20 points in rubber bridge but it gave her a top score in match point play.

We aren't going into the merit or lack of merit of the bidding. In spite of vulnerability East might have ventured a heart overcall and it is doubtful if many North players opened with one diamond, but the diamond opening and the lack of an overcall set the stage for Miss White's play.

She played the deuce of spades from dummy. This risked nothing unless the defense could get in a surprise ruff. Helen started with two losers. She was taking one quickly and leaving the other for later—or was she?

Anyway East was in with

Encephalitis Symptoms Will Vary with Type

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What is the cause of encephalitis? How does it start? Is it contagious? How long does it last? What is the best treatment? Are there any after effects?

A—Encephalitis (brain fever) or sleeping sickness) is the name applied to a dozen or more virus diseases. The symptoms vary with the type but in general include headache, fever, loss of appetite, double vision and lethargy. As the disease progresses there may be dizziness, weakness, mental confusion, convulsions and coma. Since most types are transmitted by mosquitoes or ticks that have previously bitten a victim, the disease is not directly contagious.

Recovery begins in about a week. Since there is no specific cure the treatment is aimed at alleviating the symptoms. Some types can be prevented by a specific vaccine. Aftereffects may occur but they are not the rule. They include paralysis of various muscle groups, mental deterioration, behavior disturbances in children and shaking palsy.

Q—Can one get encephalitis more than once?

A—An attack of one type of encephalitis would confer immunity against that specific type but not against other types.

Q—What are the symptoms and treatment of the diabetes without any sugar in the urine?

A—The cause of this disease, diabetes insipidus, is an insufficient production of the antidiuretic hormone by the pituitary. As a result, the victim drinks large quantities of fluid and passes a large amount of urine. In several recent studies a variety of drugs have been found to benefit persons with this disease. These include posterior pituitary extract, ethacrynic acid, vasopressin, chlorpropamide, adalactone, chlorothiazide and furosemide. All are prescription drugs.

Q—When one is allergic to penicillin, what can be taken instead?

A—Processes to refine penicillin and get a purer product that is free from allergens are constantly being studied. At present, benzyl penicillin is said to be tolerated by some persons who are allergic to other penicillin preparations. It should not, however be used without preliminary testing on anyone who is sensitive to penicillin. Other antibiotics frequently used on such persons include erythromycin and cephalothin.

Kentucky Derby Race Is Saturday

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jimmy Conway is hoping Frankie's Hat will make Saturday another very special May Day. Henry Forrest is wondering if a certain post will block Forward Pass' way to the Kentucky Derby winner's circle.

And 12 other trainers are saddled with their private hopes and fears as they await the 94th running of America's foremost horse race.

May Day for Conway does not fall on the first day of the month, but on the fourth. The last time Conway trained a Derby horse was the last time it was run on May 4, in 1963. He saddled Chateaugay, the winner.

"I hope this May 4 is a good day for me," Conway said Thursday after making Frankie's Hat, owned by Al Lippe's Saddle Rock Farm, an official part of the 14-horse field entered in the 1 1/4-mile classic.

The post Forrest is worried about is post position 13.

"We weren't very lucky in the draw," said the trainer for Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm.

In Forward Pass' five victories this year, four of them in stakes, he started from the No. 1 through No. 4 post positions.

In his three losses, he broke from the No. 5, 7 and 10 slots.

The post position did not keep Forward Pass from being made the early 8-5 favorite for the race which will go off at 4:38 p.m., EDT. It will be televised from 4-5 p.m. and carried on radio from 4:20-4:50 p.m. by CBS.

If all 14 start, the Derby will have a gross value of $165,100, with $122,600 to the winner.

Jockey Ismael Valenzuela will be looking to get Forward Pass a good break, while Howard Grant will be trying to help Frankie's Hat touch off Conway's May Day celebration.

The second early favorite is Peter Fuller's Dancer's Image, who will be ridden by Bobby Ussery, and the third choice is Mrs. Montgomery Fisher's Proper Proof, to be ridden by Johnny Sellers.

Barber Only 2 Strokes Off the Pace

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Miller Barber of Texarkana, Ark., is only two strokes off the pace as the $100,000 Houston Champions International Golf Tournament moves into its second day today.

Barber shot a four-under-par 67 Thursday and is in a four-way tie for third place. He had nines of 35-32.

R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., shot a 71 with nines of 35-36 and Dick Crawford of Bella Vista, Ark., had nines of 38-35 for a 73.

Jack Nicklaus took the first round lead with a blistering 65.

Boston's Celtics Again Rule

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Boston's Celtics once again rule the National Basketball Association roost after what Bill Russell terms "one of the greatest victories of all the championships we've won."

The 6-foot-9 player-coach reffered not only to Thursday night's 124-109 triumph in the Forum, home of the Lakers, but to the playoffs over-all.

For Russell it meant the first title as a coach after Boston won eight straight under Red Auerbach. The Celtics were beaten out last year by the Philadelphia 76ers.

Big Bill figures this one of the finest seasons because "this Celtic team is not one of the most talented that I have been on."

Literally, however, they blew the Lakers off the court in the first half to build a 20-point advantage at 70-50. John Havlicek, who wound up with 40, and Bailey Howell, with 30, led the assault.

Los Angeles played poorly in the finale which gave Boston the series by a 4-2 count, the sixth time in the modern reign of the Celtics that the Lakers have been their final victims.

Boston built a 35-28 first-quarter advantage before the 17,398 in the new Forum and then surged to a 20-point lead early in the second stanza.

Elgin Baylor missed a free throw and incredibly failed on a stuff shot moments later. Havlicek was fouled in the back court, sank two free throws so instead of Los Angeles collecting three points, the Celtics had two. In the space of scant minutes they scored 15 points to a pair for Los Angeles.

Late in the third period, Los Angeles closed to within 11 points at 82-71 and again at 84-73.

"I thought we were going to do it when they got down to those 11, but they shot right up," commented Laker Coach Bill van Breda Kolff.

In the American Basketball Association, the New Orleans Bucs and the Pittsburgh Pipers will engage in their showdown battle for the championship Saturday night in Pittsburgh. The best-of-7 series is tied at three victories for each team.

This Husky Athlete Is Fine Pianist

By ANGELA PENNA
Associated Press Writer
DENTON, Tex. (AP) — That wispy, fragile looking playing the piano and that husky, muscular athlete running the 100-yard dash are basically the same as far as heart beats go, says a North Texas State University biologist.

Dr. James R. Lott, using apparatus developed by space scientists to monitor body functions of astronauts, has been studying the effects of stress—both physical and emotional—on humans.

In monitoring the heart rate of Stefan Bardas, resident pianist in the university's School of Music, Dr. Lott found the musician's pulse rate remained above 120 during the entire two hours of a recent concert performance. The average pulse rate is 72. Twice his heart reached a peak of 168 beats per minute.

In contrast, a 100-yard dash specialist on the NTSU track team registered 144 at the start, 132 during the race, and 150 immediately after, in actual competition. A distance runner's heart registered 138 at the beginning of a one-mile run, reached 162 before the end of the race and briefly peaked at 168 immediately after.

The biologist said however, it was reasonable to believe that cardiac changes during actual athletic competition may not be the same as cardiac changes in noncompetitive physical exertions.

Friday, May 3, 1968

He said he began his research with the young athlete in mind because of several deaths among the nation's school boy athletes.

"Some of these are attributed to heart problems, although in most cases the youngsters have undergone physical examinations prior to the beginning of the season," he said.

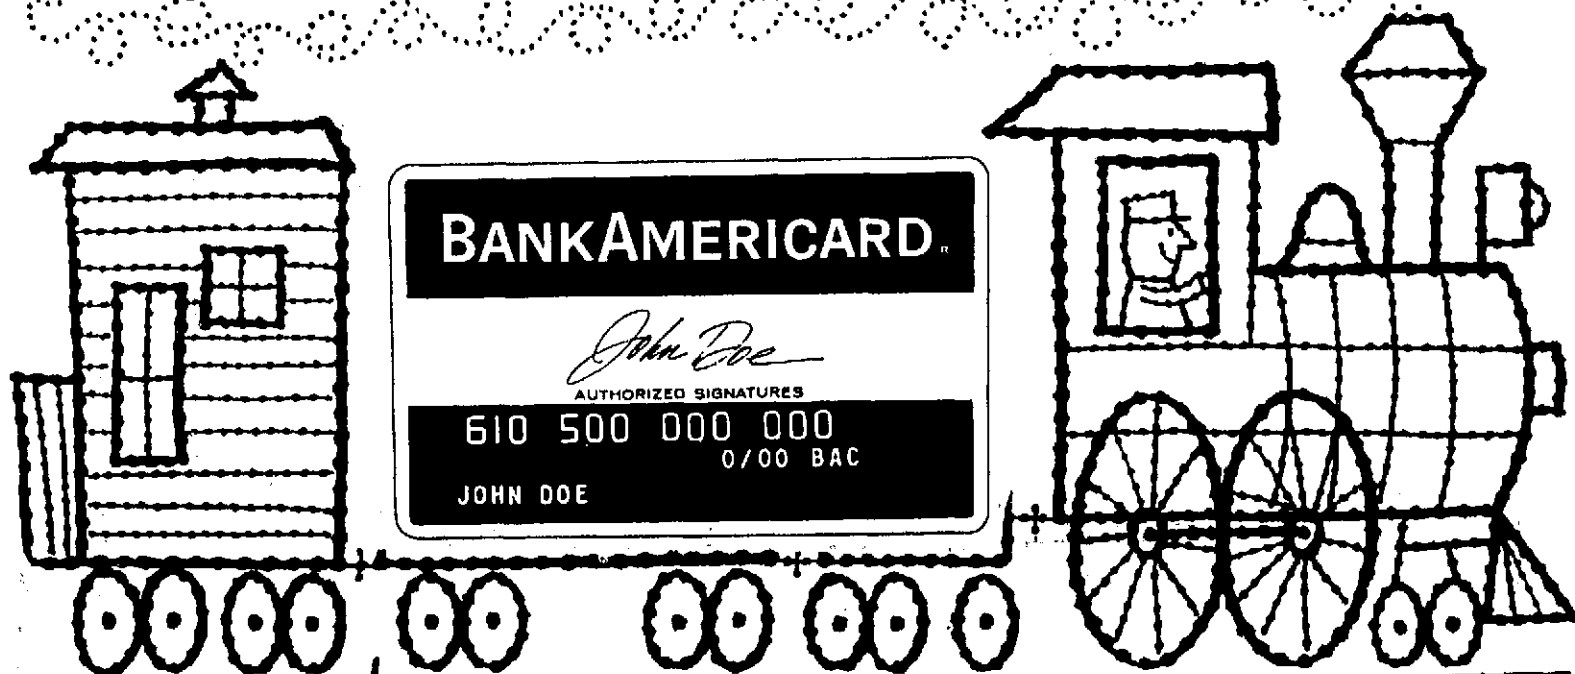

"I would like to see a time come when all young athletes undergo pre-season physical examinations that would include a biotelemetry examination of body functions during strenuous workouts," Dr. Lott said.

The scientist said he felt this might enable a team physician to detect some heart problems early enough to prevent further aggravation of the condition.

"My immediate aim is to establish a simple, inexpensive, routine test measurement of a subject's EKG—electrocardiogram—and heart rate during a short exertion session, with equipment so portable it could be carried in a suitcase," Lott said.

Lott's research concerns the effects of physical and mental stress on three specific body "meters"—the electrocardiogram (EKG), the heart rate itself and the electroencephalogram (EEG), or electrical brain waves.

Star Calls for Showdown on Census Bureau

Yesterday, by telephone and letter, The Star appealed to Congressman John Paul Hammerschmidt to call for an official showdown on what we consider to be the Census Bureau's misrepresentation as to the secrecy of reports citizens make to it.

I talked by 'phone to C. W. Cardin in Washington, administrative assistant to Congressman Hammerschmidt, who was then on the House floor, and confirmed the conversation with the following letter:

"Dear Mr. Cardin: This confirms today's telephone conversation, and I am enclosing copy of our editorial questioning the secrecy of reports to the Census Bureau published in The Star of Tuesday, April 30, which is in addition to the copy your office receives on our mailing list.

"In its notice to the public on federal form MC-27A (Rev.) for the five-year Census of Manufactures the Census Bureau has added this line to the notice printed on the last previous form, for the year 1962, received by the public in 1963:

"The law also provides that copies (of reports to the Census Bureau) retained in your files are immune from legal process."

"This last line is in direct conflict with a decision by the Supreme Court of the United States Dec. 11, 1961, holding that copies retained in private business files ARE NOT immune from legal process."

"I wish Congressman Hammerschmidt to make an official request of the Census Bureau to explain what appears to be a misrepresentation by a federal bureau, and I would like to see the charge and reply carried by the national news services."

YOURS TRULY

The principle behind this showdown is perfectly plain.

Government is having a lot to say nowadays about dishonesty of private business and misuse of truth in advertising - and yet a government agency misrepresents to its citizens that when they disclose their business secrets to the Census Bureau these reports are sacred and can not be used to prosecute the persons who filed them. . . . when, as a matter of record, the Supreme Court ruled Dec. 11, 1961, that while actual reports in the files of the Census Bureau are sacred this immunity doesn't apply to the copies remaining in private business files, and these may be demanded by federal agents.

I told Congress Hammerschmidt's office over the telephone yesterday that a couple of years ago I had a researcher check the legal record in Washington and up to that time there was no change in the law - the Supreme Court decision of Dec. 11, 1961, still stood. What I further learned was this:

Official Washington is unhappy over the Supreme Court's decision. Everyone in Washington is mad at the Federal Trade Commission, and the Justice Department and its Anti-Trust Division because of the lawsuit and court decision which now embarrass the Census Bureau.

There is a gentleman's understanding in Washington, I was told, that the Justice Department now realizes it made a tactical error and will not exercise the right the Supreme Court gave it to seize private business men's files.

This may be the "understanding" today - but it's not the law. And the citizen who depends on such an "understanding" today may wake up tomorrow and find that a new set of bureaucrats have suddenly resolved to use their authority - under the terms of the Supreme Court decision of Dec. 11, 1961.

Will Take a New Look at Tax Proposal

By WILLIAM MORAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House Ways and Means Committee—where President Johnson's proposed income tax boost has languished in limbo for eight months—will take a new look at the measure and a companion $18 billion appropriations cut plan.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said he wants to sound out the committee Monday before any more sessions of a Senate-House conference committee seeking a compromise package.

"There is no point in going much farther in the conference until I have an idea what the committee will back," Mills told newsmen Thursday.

The Senate has passed a bill including a 10 per cent income tax surcharge, as proposed by President Johnson. That same bill calls for a $6 billion spending cut in Johnson's budget for fiscal 1969, which begins July 1.

The conference committee has been discussing this bill for several weeks without much outward sign of progress. But the House Appropriations Committee made its own recommendation on spending this week.

Under the plan, the first $7 a person spent daily outside the Western Hemisphere would be exempt from taxation, the next $8 daily would be taxed 15 per cent and everything over $15 daily would be taxed 30 per cent.

The House Banking Committee unanimously endorsed a plan under which the United States would take part in the new "paper gold" international reserve currency system. This new currency would be used along with gold, dollars and pounds sterling as international reserves.

Industry Works Hard to Make It Soft for Nation's Housewives

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) - Industry is working hard to make it soft for the nation's housewives.

Take disposable pans, for instance. Take 'em quick, before they overflow the kitchen and go clattering down the hall.

Somehow, they end up in the dishpan instead of the garbage pail and they come out so shiny and sturdy looking that my thrifty nature rebels at discarding such useful objects.

Useful for what, I have yet to discover. But still, I have the storage shelves of the stove stacked with them and the cabinets are so packed with aluminum foil dishes of every size and description that the whole pile comes crashing to the floor every time I open the door.

I'd have a little more room for the disposable pans, except that the drawers and closets in the house are all jammed with those lovely plastic bags clothes come back in from the cleaners.

No telling when I'll need 250 or so garment covers, so I carefully fold them up and stuff them into any space not already occupied by little plastic strawberry baskets or slightly used disposable dustcloths.

When plastic rowers and plastic toothpicks made their debut my life took a turn for the worse. I know they're meant to

Administration Losing Ground in Fight to Prevent Wage Increase

By WILLIAM MORAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson delivered today his strongest appeal yet for Congress to act on his tax increase proposal, and told those demanding deeper spending cuts: "Don't hold up a tax bill until you can blackmail someone."

The President told a nationally televised news conference, his first since last November, that "we are courting danger" by continued delay on the tax proposal.

Strikers to Vote on Settlement

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - Telephone strikers across the nation are preparing to vote on whether to trade in their picket signs for the biggest package of increased wage and fringe benefits in the industry's history.

The proposed contract negotiated by the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America and the Bell Telephone System would provide three-year increases totaling nearly 20 per cent.

A company official indicated it would lead to higher telephone bills for many of the nation's 50 million customers, but didn't specify what rate hikes might be forthcoming.

Results of the voting by some 200,000 strikers from coast to coast are expected by Sunday. The contract will set the pattern for most of another 400,000 telephone workers whose contracts expire later.

The tentative contract agreement came Thursday after some 24 hours of marathon bargaining. The strike, first nationwide telephone walkout in 21 years, is in its 16th day.

Top-paid telephone installers would get $34 a week more in wages alone by the third year of the contract, highest-rated plant craftsmen $24 more and switchboard operators and clerks $16, the union said.

The largest part of the wage increases would come at the start of the first year, including $12 a week for top-scale craftsmen and $8 for operators and clerical workers.

Craftsmen and installers now average about $154 a week, operators about $83 and clerical employees about $103, but geographical differentials make for

He called on Congress members to "stand up like men and vote" to pass the tax bill.

He said that he remains personally opposed to spending cuts but that he has reluctantly agreed to the plan approved this week by the House Appropriations Committee. That would cut spending by $4 billion and appropriations by $18 billion in an effort to pave the way for the tax bill.

But he said Senate-approved spending cuts of $6 billion "would really bring chaos to the government."

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means committee, one of those who has been demanding sharp spending cuts, said the committee will take a new look at the situation Monday.

Tax proposals and the spending cut voted by the Senate are pending before a Senate-House Conference Committee.

Johnson noted that the response to the action of the Appropriations Committee has been demands for deeper cuts, principally from Republican leaders.

He noted that business and labor leaders have supported the 10 per cent surtax proposal but that "The Congress has not been that cooperative."

"I think we are courting danger by this continued procrastination, this continued delay," he said.

Mills indicated he is not ready to act immediately.

There was no immediate comment from the Council of Economic Advisers on the telephone settlement—which still faces a ratification vote—but administration officials undoubtedly feel it's inflationary even if they don't say so publicly.

In its annual report last February, the council called for union settlements this year "appreciably lower" than the 5.5 per cent average for 1967 increases. It called for restraint by business to hold the price line.

The council fixed no exact wage-price guideline, such as its 3.2 per cent recommendation in 1966, and it said unions couldn't be expected to hold their demands to 3 per cent this year—a level representing the increased cost of living in 1967.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The attorney general's office said Thursday that the operators of motorcycles are not responsible for supplying passengers with protective headgear.

Ralph G. Brodie, an assistant attorney general, said "the operator and the passenger are each individually responsible for his own protective gear when riding a motorcycle."

Municipal Judge Ralph T. Shannon of Siloam Springs asked for the opinion.

Raps Those Personally Ambitious

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson struck out today at those who by "pursuing . . . personal ambition" divide the country. And he withheld a commitment to campaign for the Democratic presidential nominee.

On politics, Johnson drew a laugh when he told a questioning reporter that he would discuss "after the convention" whether he would campaign for his party's nominee.

He indicated the setting of a tentative date and site for preliminary talks with North Vietnam had not altered his March 31 decision not to run for re-election.

Johnson was asked, too, how he thinks Congress will respond to pressure from the Poor People's march on Washington.

He noted that $80 billion of recommendations on social matters are now pending and said "we are hopeful and we expect Congress will give due consideration to all these matters."

"We are now attempting to do everything that can properly be done to meet the needs of the country," he said, adding that citizens always have the right to present their views to the government as long as it is done "lawfully and properly."

Johnson said, "We hope the presentation will be nonviolent, although we are well aware no single individual can give assurances. It contains many inherent dangers. We're concerned with them. We've made extensive preparations."

He said every person in the nation's capital should be aware of the possibility of serious consequences flowing from any "large assemblage of people in the seat of government."

Johnson was asked what he thinks the prospects are for his 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

"I think we have a long and difficult road ahead," he said, adding that if he were making up the budget now instead of last fall he would "perhaps add some to it" rather than cut it.

While critics are demanding billions of dollars in cuts, he called the budget "very lean" in view of increasing needs in Vietnam and the cities.

"The Congress has not been that cooperative," he said in noting business and labor support. He added that lawmakers talk about raising taxes but have done nothing and that

LBJ Quickly Accepts the Offer

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) - The United States and North Vietnam agreed today to open preliminary peace talks in Paris next Friday or a few days thereafter.

President Johnson announced at a 10 a.m. news conference he had sent word to Hanoi that he accepts the time and place Hanoi had announced to the world two hours earlier.

Johnson said he was informed of the North Vietnamese agreement at 1 a.m. today. He then conferred with Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other high officials and made his decision.

Hanoi announced its purpose in the talks would be "to decide with the U.S. side the unconditional cessation by the United States of its bombing and all other acts of war against the Democratic Republic of Vietnam North Vietnam and later to talk about other matters related to the two sides."

Johnson ordered March 31 a partial halt in bombing of the North and called for peace talks. He offered to stop the rest of the bombing if Hanoi would show "restraint" in its military operations.

But U.S. officials report Hanoi since early March has greatly increased infiltration of men and weapons into South Vietnam.

Asked about this today Johnson said "we have been quite concerned" about the North Vietnamese expanding infiltration.

The President warned the Paris talks would be only the "first step" toward bringing the long and bloody war in Southeast Asia to a close.

"Let me sound a precautionary note," Johnson said after announcing his decision. "This is only a very first step, and there are many, many hazards and difficulties ahead."

"I have never felt it was useful for public officials to confuse delicate negotiations by detailing personal views" in advance. Johnson went on. So, he said he would not discuss the question further now.

It was exactly a month ago today that North Vietnam and the United States publicly declared their readiness for such talks, thus signaling a potential breakthrough in the long effort to begin peace discussions.
